Report on Orientation Programme for B.A. Students (Economics)

Jorhat Kendriya Mahavidyalaya

Date: 23/07/2022

Introduction:

An orientation programme for the newly enrolled B.A. students specializing in Economics was conducted at Department of Economics, Jorhat Kendriya Mahavidyalaya. The objective of the orientation was to acquaint the students with the course curriculum, guidelines on conducting classes, organizing field trips, and the production process of the departmental magazine. The programme aimed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the academic and extracurricular aspects of their study.

Key Topics Discussed:

1. Course Curriculum:

The orientation session began with an overview of the B.A. Economics curriculum. Detailed explanations were provided about the core subjects, elective courses, and the interdisciplinary approach, emphasizing the importance of a holistic understanding of economics in real-world scenarios.

2. How to Conduct Classes:

Faculty members shared insights on effective teaching methodologies. Interactive sessions were conducted to demonstrate engaging teaching techniques, encouraging student participation, and fostering a dynamic learning environment. The importance of two-way communication and encouraging students to ask questions was emphasized.

3. Organization of Field Trip:

The significance of practical exposure in Economics was highlighted, and the process of organizing field trips was discussed. Students were informed about the upcoming field trip, its objectives, and the relevance of experiential learning in understanding economic phenomena in various settings.

4. Departmental Magazine:

The students were introduced to the production process of the departmental magazine. They were encouraged to contribute articles, research papers, and creative pieces related to economics. The editorial team provided guidance on writing styles, formatting, and the submission process, fostering a sense of involvement and pride in the department's literary and academic endeavors.

Conclusion:

The orientation programme proved to be an informative and interactive session for the newly enrolled B.A. students in Economics. It provided them with a clear understanding of the course structure, effective teaching methods, the importance of practical exposure through field trips, and opportunities for academic and creative expression through the departmental magazine. The faculty and students left the session with enthusiasm and a sense of purpose, ready to embark on an enriching academic journey.
