The session was presided over by Dr. Dulen Saikia, Principal, JKM. The session was anchored by Ratnamoni Dutta, Assistant Professor of English and co-teacher-in-charge of NCC Unit JKM. A felicitation ceremony was taken place at 10: 30 am where Fulam Gamusa and Memento were delivered by Pallabi Hazarika, Assistant Professor of Economics and co-ordinator of CCGC. to the esteemed guests and Principal Sir. A welcome speech was delivered by the Principal, JKM who also introduced the guest to everyone. He delivered why NCC was established and what was its aim. He said must have a good education, the right skill to prosper, and the knowledge and personality within himself. He also delivered the aim of inviting Col, Narendra Ola Sir. Col, Narendra Ola Sir was invited to deliver his speech at 10: 40 am. He delivered that two things are very close to his heart: one is NCC Cadets and another one is the teacher. He also opened up in front of everyone that he was the best cadet in Rajasthan in 1997 and second best cadet in India in 1998. He was the best Glider pilot in India in 1998. With an utterance of a Hindi slok, he said why the teachers are another one who is close to his heart. Sir settled for an informal interaction to make the students comfortable and discuss everything freely. He delivered a story on how to achieve the aim and why aim is very important in life. He added how he aimed for Indian Army and how he got selected. To achieve something, one must have dedication. He said in Army one can be a soldier or officer, the choice depends on the individual. He said that he is a gallantry award winner and visited three countries, being in Indian Army. The thing is that why one should choose a career in Indian Army because this institution carries innumerable honors along with it. He presented why Indian Army can be termed best the most honorable institution. It is, because of the best ethos it provides. It is also noted that if one can undergo the training session successfully, he can tackle any challenge and overcome any kind of situation in life. Sir has presented in detail the salaries and eligibility criteria for different posts. One can enter Indian Army with and without appearing UPSC. He also added the benefits of the Agniveer scheme and NEP. One can serve the nation for four years, and can also come back after four years and continue his studies. Sir has also mentioned the website to the students: www.joinindianarmy.nic.in, to look for more available career options. An ITI Diploma can help in joining the Indian army. After presenting in detail about the recruitment eligibility criteria, salary packages and holiday offers, and the bonus scores in the recruitment process through NCC certificates, diplomas, and sports, he summed up his presentation. With his insightful deliberation, he also said that girls should also come and join Indian Army, and be a soldier or officers. He interacted with the questions of students on how to crack the SSB Exam and rap up his speech. The second speech was delivered by G. Punmurgan Sir. He urged the
