Report on National Mathematics Day Celebration

The Department of Mathematics at Jorhat Kendriya Mahavidyalaya, in collaboration with the Department of Mathematics at Kakojan College and Bahona College, organized a celebration of National Mathematics Day on December 22, 2023. The event aimed to promote the importance of mathematics and its applications in various fields.

Prof. Surajit Borkotoky, Professor in the Department of Mathematics at Dibrugarh University, graced the occasion as the resource person. He delivered an insightful talk on the significance of mathematics in modern society and its role in driving innovation and progress. Students from the participating colleges actively engaged in the celebration, showcasing their mathematical skills through various activities such as quizzes, problem-solving sessions, and presentations. The event featured interactive sessions where students had the opportunity to interact with Prof. Borkotoky and other faculty members, gaining valuable insights into the field of mathematics and its applications.

The celebration of National Mathematics Day was a resounding success, fostering a deeper appreciation for the subject and encouraging students to pursue their interests in mathematics. The event also highlighted the commitment of the participating institutions to providing quality education and promoting excellence in the field of mathematics.
